BENEFITING THE COLORECTAL CANCER PREVENTION NETWORK

As March is National Colorectal Cancer Awareness Month, Digestive Disease Group PA and The Greenwood Endoscopy Center are hosting the first annual Strollin' For Your Colon, a 5K run /walk at 9:00 am March 23, 2019. All proceeds will go to benefit the nonprofit Colorectal Cancer Prevention Network.

Colon cancer is the most preventable and treatable of cancers if detected early; conversely, it is one of the deadliest if diagnosed at more advanced stages. The disease is the third most common among cancers, and the second leading cause of cancer death in the US and in South Carolina. Over 700 South Carolinians die from colon cancer each year, and about 2,300 are diagnosed with the disease.

The Colorectal Cancer Prevention Network (CCPN) is a program administered by the Center for Colorectal Cancer Research at the University of South Carolina that offers free screening colonoscopies to underinsured patients throughout state. Digestive Disease Group PA was one of just two GI offices in the state that participated in the pilot study in 2008. Since then, the program has grown to over 80 gastroenterologists throughout South Carolina volunteering their time to perform over 3,000 free colonoscopies.
